*Heavenly Father
we thank you for all your gifts to us;
for making us;
for saving us in Christ,
for calling us to be your people.*

*As we come to the end of the school year,
we give you thanks
for all the good things you have done in us.
We thank you for all who have shared in the work of our College this year, and ask you to bless us all in your love.*

We offer this prayer, Father, through Christ, our brother and our Lord.

Amen.

PRINCIPAL'S MESSAGE

The circumstance of my being chosen as the next Provincial of the Marist Fathers has meant that when I began to write this report, I was living for a few weeks in Rome attending a "new provincials' workshop".

Being in Rome made one very conscious of the year of the Jubilee and the many thousands, even millions of people coming to Rome as pilgrims to participate in the Jubilee program.

A question arose in my mind "How relevant is all that is going on in Rome to the future of the Church? How relevant is it to the continuing mission of the Church in Tasmania - to the role in the Church for Marist Regional College?"

In Rome one gets a sense of history having been lived out. Locations, buildings and monuments from the first millenium abound. Nevertheless, Rome is a city of contrasts. Among buildings I visited was the Pantheon, now in regular use as a Parish Church, but which was built before the Christian era. Another was the Paul VI auditorium at the Vatican, in regular use for gatherings addressed by the pope, built during the second half of the twentieth century. The former about 20 centuries old, the latter not a lot more than 20 years old!

Among the ceremonies I saw were a Mass at St. Peters, celebrated by the Pope with an abundance of bishops in attendance and for which the order of service and precedence among clerics was carefully set out in the Vatican newspaper. I also had the privilege of sharing in the evening prayer of a community run by lay people in one of the oldest churches dedicated to Mary. This nightly service fills the rather large basilica and simultaneous translation is provided in several languages to cater for their many visitors.

There are the contrasts! The old and the new, the hierarchical church and the church moved along by devoted and dedicated lay women and men.

At the time of the "Call to Change" in Tasmania, I feel it is an appropriate time to ponder the place of Marist Regional College in the church of the 21st century which is about to begin.

I see Marist Regional College and indeed all Catholic schools with an important, even essential role. The church men and women of the new century will continue to need to be taught about the gospel message, about the history and traditions of the church. The environment will need to be established where students can learn about the varied roles to be played in the church. If it be God's will for them they will need encouragement to become priests and religious. The majority will need to be prepared to be good Christian lay women and men who can carry on the work of the church in the secular world of the 21st century.

If the Church is to play any significant role in influencing the ethos of 21st century society it will be through the lifestyle of Christians aware of the gospel message and who live out that message in their daily lives and so bear witness to the gospel. Vatican II placed the emphasis in spreading the gospel on the contact of Christian men and women with their neighbours, their work mates and their social acquaintances. It falls to schools such as Marist Regional College to support (and unfortunately, sometimes virtually replace) families in preparing young men and women to be the witness to the gospel.

It is with some misgivings that year by year I see young men and women move on from school to the next phase of their lives. In the way they live out their lives they will show how the College has succeeded in preparing them to be good followers of Christ, "good citizens and well prepared for life."

It is my hope and prayer that in the years to come the names of the men and women active and leading the church and civil society in Tasmania will include names familiar to me because they will be names of students who attended Marist Regional College in the last few years of the twentieth century when it has been my privilege to serve the school as principal.

Rev. Fr. William Ryder, S.M.

BOARD OF MANAGEMENT

The year 2000 has been a year of structural change in catholic education in Tasmania. These changes reflect the type of business structural changes that have been found necessary in the community around us, and we at Marist were not excluded.

Marist Regional College was invited to participate in an Association of Catholic Colleges in Tasmania to form a systemic arrangement for funding. This is seen as a positive move for the advancement of catholic education in Tasmania. Upon the clarification of the guidelines of association, the Board was in strong support of this move that will benefit not only Marist Regional, but also the whole of the senior catholic education system in Tasmania.

The Governing Council of Marist Regional College was established this year replacing Marist Regional College Incorporated. This change has been made to give more local ownership to the governance of the College. An example of this is the registered office of Marist Regional College Incorporated has been transferred to Burnie, which allows the Business Manager, as Public Officer, more involvement with the compliance with legal provisions. Sadly at the beginning of 2000 the Sisters of Mercy gave notification of their withdrawal from the Governance of the College. The Sisters of Mercy remain on the College's Governing Council, thought at this stage they do not have a representative on the Board of Management.

Student numbers at Marist fell to 630 in 2000 from 663 in 1999, with 156 in the Senior College, as the region deals with the local economic situation and the resultant population trends in the district. Financial management of the College with a projected decline in student numbers over the next five years (as recent evaluation of feeder school enrolments predict a 6% reduction in numbers) will be a challenge. The formation of a vision for Marist has had to incorporate the demographics predicted for the region together with the advice of educationalists and the school community. We believe that Marist Regional College is well placed in continuing to provide quality Catholic secondary education for our young men and women.

The year 2000 has seen a continuation of opportunities to make sure cost efficiencies at Marist are maintained. Outsourcing is a necessary efficiency in business that allows effective use of available community specialists. This year the change was to outsource the Uniform shop. This follows similar successful actions with the Canteen and book sales in recent years.

An increase in Supplementation through Federal Government grants allowed the College to maintain a good cash flow through from 1999, and as a result, it was not necessary to borrow money (as budgeted) to achieve the projects planned for this year. This positive status has allowed renovation works in the old toilet/shower block to provide five co-ordinators' offices and two small tutorial rooms to proceed financed internally.

At the beginning of second term students were able to use the new toilet block and renovated internal shower/toilet facilities. This asset development program that required Capital Projects funding is the preliminary required to upgrade the Art Department. It was found necessary to upgrade toilet and shower facilities to ensure maximum use of existing buildings. These renovations will free up space for the Art Department development in our 5 year plan.

The Board Members for 2000 were Messrs. Peter Blesson, John Bloomfield, Mark Summers, David Dwyer (Chairman), Fr Robert Hollow, Fr William Ryder, Mrs Kathleen Siggins, Mrs Billie Hicks and Mrs Kathy Cameron. The Board has met regularly during the year and I am pleased to be supported by the members and thank them for their participation. Mrs Suzanne Harris is a recent appointment to the Board.

The Board congratulates the new Principal Fr Pat Kervin on his appointment. It is a positive for us that Fr Pat is already available at the College with a strong understanding of the existing operations. Congratulations to Mrs Sue Chen on her appointment as Deputy Principal. We look forward to the new year working with this new Team and wish them well in their leadership of the College.

Last but not least I wish to thank Fr Bill Ryder for his service to the College and to catholic education in Tasmania. Fr Bill has worked tirelessly for the College in his 7 years in Burnie. He has been devoted to the cause of financial justice, with his efforts rewarded with changes to the Federal Government system finally bringing about equity last year. We also congratulate Fr Bill on his new appointment as Provincial, the head of the Marist Fathers in Australia. Well don Fr Bill.

David Dwyer
Chairman Board of Management

FAREWELL FR RYDER

While we expected that Fr Ryder would complete his term as Principal at Marist Regional College at the end of this year, we were not certain of his future appointment until last August when it was announced that Fr Bill Ryder, S.M., had been elected as Provincial Superior of the Marist Fathers' Australian Province.

Fr Ryder professed his vows as a Marist in 1956 and was ordained a priest in 1961. Apart from periods of study at the University of New England, NSW, and the Catholic University of America, USA, Fr Ryder has been involved in the ministry of secondary education at St. Paul's College, Bellambi, NSW, Holy Spirit College, Bellambi, NSW, St John's College, Lismore, NSW and has been Principal of Marist Regional College, Burnie, since 1994.

During his principalship at Marist Regional College we have watched the continued growth of the College and a continuing improvement in the College's facilities. During the last seven years we have seen Year 6 returned to Stella Maris Primary, the completion of building projects for the Library Resource Centre, Home Economics, Textiles and Speech and Drama, the refurbishment of the Science, MDT, Music, Photography, Change Rooms, and faculty office areas. The College has benefited from Fr Ryder's efforts in securing a more equitable funding for the College from the Commonwealth Government, and more recently through the Association of Catholic Colleges in Tasmania.

While we look to the improvements in College facilities with gratitude, I would hope that Fr Ryder will be remembered for his vision for the College, his collaborative leadership and for his sensitivity and compassion for those whom he served. His care extended beyond the College grounds as Fr Ryder gave of his time and talent to work with other College and Archdiocesan bodies to assist the growth of Catholic Education throughout the Archdiocese. His efforts have reminded us all of the importance of Catholic Education and that this College only has meaning in the context of its mission.

We wish Fr Ryder well in his new role as Provincial of the Marist Fathers and thank him for all he has given us during his seven years here.

Patrick Kervin SM.

MARIST REGIONAL COLLEGE

PARENTS & FRIENDS

It is with pleasure that I present the annual report for the year 2000.

This is the first year of our new P&F format with only 5 meetings per year and one major fundraiser, namely, the fete. The new structure was devised in response to the low attendances at P&F meetings and a perceived lack of time and interest in sustained fundraising, the aim being to maintain and even increase the essential interest and role of parents in the school in a more compact format.

At the end of the year I believe that we can be satisfied with the outcome. Attendances at meetings have increased marginally and it will take a little time to build the culture of the once-per-year fundraiser. The job of finding interesting and available guest speakers is not always easy and I appeal to all members to assist the incoming President with this task.

The Fete this year proved successful with net fundraising of over $8,000. However, I believe we should work to increase this amount to well over $10,000 as a once-off effort. We should encourage all parents to participate in some way - as helpers, purchasers or by giving a donation. Thank you to all parents, staff, friends and students who contributed to the success of the fete.

Upon the transfer of the uniform shop to private interests we received our final dividend of $4,300.

This year we have followed the usual pattern of spending approximately the amount we have raised. $4,000 has been allocated to grounds fencing to protect lawn areas from traffic and $4,430 has been spent on sheet music for our very successful bands. A further amount has been earmarked for fencing at the northern end of the football ground pending plans and cost estimates.

Father Bill has come to the end of his term at Marist and on behalf of the P&F I wish him well in his new and important role as the Principal of the Marist Fathers in Australia. He has served the School well and his efforts in obtaining a better funding formula for the school has been a major achievement. I congratulate Father Pat on his appointment as Principal in 2001 and Sue Chen on her appointment as deputy principal.

I am most grateful to all of the parents, friends and staff who have actively supported the P&F this year. In particular, I must thank Suzanne Harris and Jules Wilson for representing the P&F at Federation meetings.

Marilyn Smiley has been Secretary for some years and this year is retiring from that position due to work commitments. Sue Walsh is in her last year of family involvement in the College and also wishes to retire. Sue has served as Treasurer and previously President of the Association and has made a major contribution to the School. To both Marilyn and Sue I say thank you.

UNITED NATIONS YOUTH ASSEMBLY

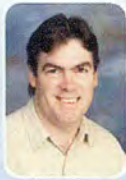

On the weekend beginning the 31st of March, Jonathon Duniam and Christopher Sandy attended the 2000 United Nations Youth Assembly (UNYA). The United Nations Youth Assembly provides the perfect opportunity for students in Grade 11 and 12 to exercise their talents that are otherwise unrecognized. It also provides perfect theatre for students to meet other students from across the state. Jonathan and Chris enjoyed the company of students from over 20 schools and in total about 100 delegates were there. It wasn't all formalities, there was a disco, pizza and plenty of FREE time! Over the weekend, each student was to represent a different country. Jonathan, Ireland and Chris, Canada, attended each of the different councils and the general assembly to debate some serious and many ridiculous issues for the fun of it. By the time the processions had come to an end many new friendships had been made and many would last. All in all, Jonathon and Chris thoroughly enjoyed the entire weekend and highly recommend it to next year's prospective delegates.

STUDENT REPRESENTATIVE COUNCIL

A year that passed with the blink of an eye, but a year that within so much has happened. We begun our year as the 2000 SRC MRC with a retreat held at the Wynyard Waterfront Lodge. A game of golf let us get in tune with our new role as the link between teachers and students. Between exploding golf balls and late nights it was a good start to the year.

The year started with the more-than-successful Karaoke stand at the fete. At that event, we had a sneak preview of the up and coming Elvis impersonators and Shania Twains.

A busy day at the Marist Regional College Athletics Carnival with the drinks stand and ice cream van. Thanks to students for supporting us.

As the year progressed, we got our act together. Each term, the school social was held, and each time, it got better. Some weird and some just downright insane costumes were seen. Above all, students had fun.

Feast Day on the 12th of September saw a great amount of enthusiasm on the students' part. A bouncy castle, water slide, barbeque lunch and a day of fun all in a school day.

The year's work has all paid off with the SRC major project being started in October. The project consists of a path linking the tennis courts and basketball courts. Each slab will have a different year levels handprints and names so students can make their mark at Marist.

We end this year by thanking every single member of the Marist Regional College community. The invaluable support shown by staff and students was essential to our job this year.

We wish the 2001 SRC all the luck needed to finish the job. We have every faith in you.

Thank you Marist

JAPANESE

MIWA SUZUKI

I got a invitation letter from Marist Regional College about a year ago. I was excited that I would come here. But at the same time I wondered how the Australian students were. I was not a teacher in Japan. So I was a little worried about teaching in front of students at first. It was a big adventure for me to come Australia and teach Japanese. Soon I realized that students of Marist were much more polite and study harder than I expected. Sometimes they were very lively. But I liked to see many students raise their hands to say their opinion. That was very new for me. Now I can enjoy teaching Japanese and I'm more confident about teaching in class.

Thank you to students who were in Japanese class, whom I met on the school bus and whom I stayed with for a while. I hope some of them got interested in Japan.

I have come to like Australia and Tasmania very much. I had an impressive time here. Thank you to all the staff, especially Ms Judy Ball for supporting me all the time.

Thanks, Marist !

Miwa Suzuki

YEAR 10 JAPANESE

This year in Japanese, students in Year 10 have further increased their knowledge and skills in the Japanese language. The language component of the subject included learning more of the Japanese script Kanji, as well as students becoming more confident in their use of the basic scripts, hiragana and Katakana. Students have learnt how to construct complex sentences describing people and events.

Key learning areas this year included the body, family, pets, the weather, positioning words and learning to use past and present tenses when describing something we'd done.

The cultural side of Japanese this year involved us taking a look at Japanese religion and housing. We also sampled some Japanese food snacks, thanks to our Japanese language assistant Suzuki Sensei.

Allison Neilson

YEAR 9 JAPANESE

This year in Japanese we learnt about education and cuisine in Japan, as well as learning about cultural events and festivals each month. We also learnt how to tell the time. We increased our knowledge of the different types of script, Hiragana, Katakana and Kanji, with the help of Suzuki Sensei. Along with cooking and origami we had a very enjoyable year and look forward to Japanese next year.

Karen Neilson and Tess de Little

YEAR 8 JAPANESE

Students in Year 8 have taken part in Japanese studies for the first time. We now know the basic writing script for Japanese - hiragana- and we all have learnt to put it in basic Japanese words and sentences. We also learnt about the Japanese months and what parades or festivals took place. We did a major assignment on Japanese sport, it included: Sumo Wrestling, Baseball (yakyu), Martial Arts and a popular Japanese sport of today, e.g. Golf. We did many interesting activities throughout the year. We did a Japanese collage of a cherry blossom and many more fun activities, like origami. I thought Japanese this year enabled us to look at the aspects of Japanese social life, culture, dress, and sport. I now have a better understanding of what Japan is like. Sayonara everyone!

VISITATION PROGRAM

As part of the Religious Education program for Year 9 at Marist Regional College, students work in the community experiencing at a practical level the Christian call of service to all people. Stella Maris Primary School, Umina Park Home for the Aged, Arthur Support School and Yaraandoo Hostel for the Aged support Marist Regional College in this endeavour. The students choose the venue they go to and the teachers discuss with them beforehand the challenges they may be presented with.

One class at a time goes on 'Visitation' so that the venues are not swamped with students. The Program runs all year and by the end of the year each of the 130 students has visited a venue three times.

Jacinta Hayes and Lauren White at Arthur Support School

Sue Chen, Religious Education Coordinator, commented that, "While admittedly a headache to organise, the rewards are tremendous. Many of the students return to the school enthusiastic about their experiences and it is obvious that they have learned a great deal. They learn that elderly people, while physically infirm, have wisdom and humour, that disabled children have dignity and courage and that young children are enthusiastic and grateful for the peer support given them."

MATHEMATICS

Esther Harris, Matthew Conlon, Nicholas Beeton

TASMANIAN MATHS COMPETITION:

One hundred and twenty six Marist Regional College students from all grades tried out their problem solving abilities when they participated in The Tasmanian Maths Competition in May this year. Nicholas Beeton from Year 10 won first prize in the Intermediate Section for Year 9 & 10 students. He can add this outstanding result to his 1998 win in the Junior Section of this competition. Others to do well this year were Esther Harris (Year 8) and Matthew Conlon (Year 7) who were among the eleven students state wide to receive Outstanding Awards.

AUSTRALIAN MATHS COMPETITION:

All students from Year 7 were entered in The Australian Maths Competition which was held in August. For students from Year 8 - 12 entry was optional. The participation rate was excellent, with a total of 263 students trying their hand in the competition. Nicholas Beeton was placed in the top 0.3% of his year group and was awarded a prize. He also received a certificate for the best result by a student from Marist Regional College. High Distinctions are awarded to students whose results are in the top 2%. Those to be awarded high distinctions are Alan Forrest (Year 7), Matthew Ribbon, James Berechree, Rachel McKenna, Kayden Walsh, Liam Webb (Year 8), Jarred Moore (Year 9) and Nicholas Cuff (Year 10). Forty two students received distinctions and 95 were awarded credits.

MATHS RELAYS:

How do you conduct a Maths Relay? You need 1 gymnasium, teams of four energetic enthusiastic students, a set of 20 problems to solve, a large clock for timing, and an adult marker. On the word "go" three students from each team solve the first problem as quickly as they can nervously watched by the fourth who acts as the runner. The runner conveys their answer to the marker. For each new question the student acting as runner rotates through the group. Points are awarded for correct answers. A phone link between Burnie, Launceston and Hobart enables this competition to be a state wide one.

Seven teams represented Marist in this years Tasmanian Maths Association Maths Relays, with all grades from 7-12 represented. Although none of our teams were among the winners, they demonstrated excellent problem solving skills and an enjoyable time was had by all.

SCIENCE

SIEMENS SCIENCE EXPERIENCE

Marist Regional College had eight participants in The 2000 Siemens Science Experience held in Launceston and Hobart in January, 2000. Students involved were: Tom Hiscutt, Andrew Gauld, Chris Wookey, Chris Johnson, Laura Frankcombe, Allison Neilson, Nicholas Beeton and Melinie Ridge. Students were given the opportunity to work closely with scientists and be involved in many practical activities. All participants found it a very valuable and stimulating experience.

The 2001 participants have all been endorsed by their local Rotary Clubs and will attend next January. They are: Tess de Little, Jarred Moore and Robert Guest. We wish them every success in the "experience".

TASMANIAN SCIENCE TALENT SEARCH PRESENTATION

The Tasmanian Science Talent Search annual presentation was held at Wrest Point Casino on April 30th, 2000. It was a glorious day for Marist Regional College taking out the award of "Best Secondary School in Tasmania". This award is presented annually to the school with the most winning entries and the following list of category and special awards shows that Marist Regional College was a deserving recipient.

Category Awards:

Posters, Science Games (1st, 2nd, 3rd Junior Section, 1st, 2nd, 3rd Intermediate Section)
Creative Writing (2nd and 3rd Intermediate Section)
Research Investigations (4th and Merit Junior Section, 1st, 2nd, 3rd Senior Section)

Special Awards:

Tasmanian Mineral council medals - Gold and Silver.
Tasmanian Mineral Council Travel Bursary
Australian Institute of Food Award
Australian Society of Biochemistry Award
Imbros Research Award
Comalco Chemistry Award
Launceston Country club Teacher Award
SPS Supply Award "Best Secondary School"
Well done to all award winners - keep up the effort.

NATIONAL SCIENCE WEEK 2000

National Science Week was celebrated in Australia from May 5th - 12th and a series of activities were co-ordinated by James Dwyer to help celebrate the event at Marist Regional College. The activities were designed to suit all tastes and included: a Scientific Treasure Hunt, Titration Competition, Macroinvertebrate Demonstration, Post Competition, Table Quiz and finally a footy match between the "Scientists - Grade 12 " and the "Sporties - Grade 11" refereed by local footy celebrity Mick McGuane. The National Science Teachers Association provided funding for prizes and a lot of fun was had throughout the week.

AUSTRALIAN SCHOOLS SCIENCE COMPETITION

The annual Australian Schools Science Competition was held at Marist Regional College in May. All grade 7 and 8 students participated and any grade 9, 10, 11 and 12 students who wished to be involved. The results were very pleasing with 6 students achieving High Distinctions, 27 Distinctions and 47 Credits.

Grade 7 student Benedict Hurkett achieved the highest score in the state and will be presented with an engraved medal by The University of New South Wales. The High Distinctions and Distinctions were as listed.

Well done to all participants.

Benedict Hurkett

High Distinctions:

Year 7: Benedict Hurkett and Simon McKenzie

Year 8: Rachel McKenna and Matthew Ribbon

Year 9: Toni Chugg and Robert Guest

Distinctions:

Year 7: Jonathan Bugg, Rhys Butler, Alan Cooke, Alan Forrest, Josh Harris, Louise Jarman, Amelia Kaldy, and Hannah Stewart

Year 8: James Hartley, Samuel Johnson, Justine Kirkpatrick and Alice Wilkinson

Year 9: Tess de Little, Jarred Moore, Ryan Oswin and Will Owens

Year 10: Nicholas Beeton, Nicholas Cuff, John Guest, Thomas Hiscutt, Christopher Hughes, Christopher Johnson, David Kirkpatrick, Tim O'Connor, Daniel Taylor

Year 12: Michael Pullinger and Ryan Sweeney

RACI TITRATION COMPETITION

On Friday, August 11th, The Royal Australian Chemical Institute annual Titration Competition was held for the North West region at Hellyer College. Marist Regional college was represented by Jarred Moore (grade 9), Andrew Gauld (grade 10) and Ryan Gilmour (grade 10) who very impressively made an accurate dilution of hydrochloric acid, used it to standardise sodium hydroxide and used the standard sodium hydroxide to find the concentration of an unknown solution of acetic acid!!!!!! Students titrated on an individual basis but also competed as a team for best overall accuracy. Whilst the Marist team did not win the overall team competition (this went to The Hutchins School) individual efforts were very good and students achieving within 1% of the true value were presented with certificates of excellence. Well done to our young chemists and "practice" up for 2001.

RACI CHEMISTRY QUIZ

On Tuesday, July 18th, The Royal Australian Chemical Institute National Chemistry Quiz was held at Marist Regional College. Students from grades 10, 11 and 12 contested this annual event by answering a series of 30 questions on pure and applied chemistry. The results were very pleasing for Marist Regional College with 2 High Distinctions, 7 Distinctions and 4 Credits out of just over forty entrants. The High Distinctions were awarded to Nicholas Beeton and Nicholas Cuff in grade 10, a result which saw them achieve within the top 1% in Australia in the competition.

Nicholas Beeton went one better still, being presented with a plaque for excellence of achievement, placing him in an elite category, nationally.

Well done to all especially Nick, we are proud of you.

High Distinctions: Nicholas Beeton and Nicholas Cuff (grade 10)

Distinctions: Andrew Gauld and Christopher Johnson (grade 10)

Keegan Buckley, Joshua Leary (grade 11)

Joshua Parry, Michael Pullinger and Ryan Sweeney (grade 12)

8TH ANNUAL SCHOOLS PHYSICS QUIZ

The Australian Institute of Physics Annual Schools Physics Quiz was contested in Launceston on Saturday, September 9th, 2000. Marist Regional College had one team comprising of Joshua Parry, Nicole Morse, Ben Hey and Alex (Sandy) Martin. Whilst the team did not emerge outright winners they contested well and ended up in the top five. Team members had a good time and won individual prizes throughout the event.

PYRETHRUM INDUSTRY/UNIVERSITY OF TASMANIA SCIENCE RESEARCH AWARDS

The year 2000 saw the establishment of a new award in Tasmania to recognise excellence in student research at grade 11 and 12 levels. The award was co-ordinated by the University of Tasmania and jointly funded by The Pyrethrum Growers Association and Botanical Resources Australia. Marist Regional College had two research groups familiarly known as 'The Grass Group' and 'The Apple Group'. Members worked diligently for six months on their chosen topics and submitted their reports by the due date. On presentation night they attended the University and 'spoke to' their research in front of an audience of university personnel, primary industry representatives, sponsors, parents and invited guests. Without any signs of nerves or stage fright at the magnitude of the occasion, members of both teams spoke with confidence and provided convincing evidence of personal understanding of the research topics. The delight was enormous when it was announced that the Marist students had taken First and Second prizes in the competition and secured both $500 awards.

FIRST PRIZE was taken by Lyle Crawford and Ryan Sweeney with a project entitled 'An Apple a Day.....' The research explored a number of storage variables and their subsequent effects on maintaining Vitamin C levels in locally grown apples. The project was applauded for its ingenuity, scientific methods, practical value and presentation on Awards Night.

First Prize Winners:
Ryan Sweeney and Lyle Crawford

SECOND PRIZE was awarded to Adam Hoare, Alex Martin, Nicole Morse, Bonnie Owens and Andrew Taylor for an investigation entitled 'Watching the Grass Grow'. For their project the students set up controlled growth media for the grass, tall fescue, common growth in North West Tasmania. They varied the fertiliser types using a range of inorganic and organic applications and compared early growth rates with fertiliser application. The investigation was commended for its practical nature and demonstration of the importance of science to the community.

Second Prize Winners:
Nicole Morse, Adam Hoare,
Andrew Taylor, Alex Martin and
Bonnie Owens

ANZAAS BURSARY

October 2000 was a rewarding month for grade 12 student Lyle Crawford. On Monday, October 16th he took out the University of Tasmania Science Research Award with his partner Ryan Sweeney. Then four days later, on Friday, October 20th, he was notified that he had been awarded a travel bursary to attend the ANZAAS Youth Conference in Adelaide in January, 2001. ANZAAS (The Australian and New Zealand Association for the Advancement of Science) select exceptional science students from around the country to participate in three days of immersion in science related activities. Because of Lyle's extensive involvement in science over the past number of years (he was a founding member of the 'Yabby Group' which experienced National and International success) he is an ideal choice to mingle with Australia's top young scientists.

MOCK INTERVIEWS

In order for students to develop interviewing techniques and life skills all 130 Year 10 students undertake a Mock Interview in the subject 'Work Studies'. Seventy business people generously gave up their valuable time to interview the students as potential employees. This is an extremely worthwhile day and many of the students find the interviewing panel a challenge. Many weeks are spent preparing the students to undertake the interview successfully with particular emphasis on interview skills and techniques, pre-examined letters and resumes, achievement folders completed, personal statements, role plays to assist with speaking clearly, having a confident manner, understanding the nature of competitive situations in the workplace and the need to present oneself in the very best light.

Being interviewed for a job is a daunting and stressful event. The entire exercise is one of welcoming the challenge, accepting change and developing skills to equip the student for the unexpectedness which can occur in interviews. As Maslow states: 'we need a different kind of human being, able to live in a world which changes perpetually; people who have been educated to be comfortable with change in situations of which they have absolutely no forewarning'. The work undertaken by the students in Work Studies provides for the challenge of change and dealing with future career options. Students at the Mock Interview gain a purpose of what happens in the workforce and how to prepare fully for an interview.

Special thanks must go to Mrs Sandra French and members of the Burnie Business and Professional Women's Club and all the business people who assisted the students to learn key competencies in interviewing techniques in an atmosphere of concern and genuine support. Students enthusiastically met the challenge, gained vital knowledge and are now able to apply for any jobs with greater confidence, ability and experience.

YEAR 10 WORK EXPERIENCE

Work Experience is an ideal opportunity to experience a career path first hand and was held from August 21st - 25th. It provides invaluable knowledge for students about life outside the confines of Marist Regional College. Students prepare themselves thoroughly, planning, selecting and researching career options. A key component of the work experience week is the appropriateness of choices made by the students. The success of the week relies heavily on the goodwill and generosity of employers to accept our students.

This year a large number of Year 10 students undertook experience in the related Health Sciences, including Chiropractic Science, Medical Laboratory Science, Pharmacy, Nursing, Occupational Therapy, Optometry, Physiotherapy, Podiatry and Naturopathy. The Health Sciences continue to be popular and we are particularly grateful to staff at the North West General Hospital, Burnie, for accommodating students on work experience. Another popular area of work was that of computing. Fourteen students successfully gained experience in this technical field both in the private or public sector. Students travelled widely with many varied destinations during the week. One interstate placement included a law firm in Collins Street, Melbourne, whilst many students travelled to Launceston, Smithton, Hobart, Ulverstone and Devonport.

One young lady had an interesting and exciting week working at Beauty Point with the recently developed Sea Horse farm. The Aquaculture area is fast becoming a thriving industry within Tasmania and two students also worked in Strahan at separate fish farms.

Placing 130 Year 10 students is a difficult task and all the students must be congratulated on their maturity and commitment to work.

Mrs Probert plans to retire from Marist Regional College at the end of this year and having worked closely with her in Careers/Work Studies, I would like to take this opportunity to thank her sincerely for her generosity, professionalism and dedication.

Her significant contribution to the College in career advising has been excellent and clearly the best in the state of Tasmania. Mrs Probert set up the Year 10 Mock Interviews, in conjunction with the Burnie Business and Professional Women's Club, and Work Experience week which are ideal opportunities to ensure that students become independent and able to choose a wonderful role in life.

Mrs Probert has provided the means for students to make informed decisions and has encouraged hundreds of students to follow their dreams and use the gifts and talents with which each one of our students has been blessed by God. Indeed we see these gifts in so many areas - sporting talents, musical talents, intellectual gifts, gifts as writers and speakers. Mrs Probert has assisted and guided so many school leavers as they moved into the world of work with confidence to take on different challenging roles in the pageant of life.

She is indeed a special, wonderful person and she will be dearly missed by students and staff alike.

Vocational Education & Training

In 2000, Vocational Education and Training Programs were offered in the industry areas; Hospitality, Office Administration, Community Services (Aged Care and Disability Care) and Engineering/Automotive Trades. With the exception of Engineering/Automotive Trades, all programs were run jointly with Hellyer College, Engineering/Automotive Trades was a partnership program with TAFE Tasmania. During the course of the year all students undertaking a Vocational Educational and Training programme completed a Workplace First Aid Certificate with Red Cross and fire training with TasFire.

Engineering/Automotive Trades Programme

The newest VET programme was launched this year as a partnership programme with Marist Regional College and TAFE Tasmania. This unique programme saw students attend the Burnie TAFE College each Friday to undertake off-the-job training and assessment in Automotive, Metal Fabrication, Fitting and Machining and Electrical nationally accredited industry units of competence. At the conclusion of the programme students will have had the opportunity to gain eight units of competency which may count towards a traineeship/apprenticeship or further study in the Engineering/Automotive industry. In addition to the off-the-job training, students have also gained experience in the workplace having undertaken up to three structured work placements in local businesses related to the programme.

Community Services

In its second year of operation at Marist Regional College, this year Community Services combined with Hellyer College to offer students from both colleges the opportunity to gain Certificate II in Community Services in either the Aged Care or Disability Services specialisation. Again, the training for this VET course based on the Community Services National Training Package, has been delivered by industry personnel both on and off the job. For the Community Services trainees the year commenced with the Aging Game at Yaraandoo, a game designed to simulate the feelings associated with aging. During the course of the year students have undertaken four weeks workplacement in up to three different local work sites. In addition to their work at college, trainees attended industry led seminars and training sessions conducted by specialists in the industry; topics included occupational health and safety, protective behaviour, alternative therapy, introduction to disability care and aged care, communication and numerous site visits.

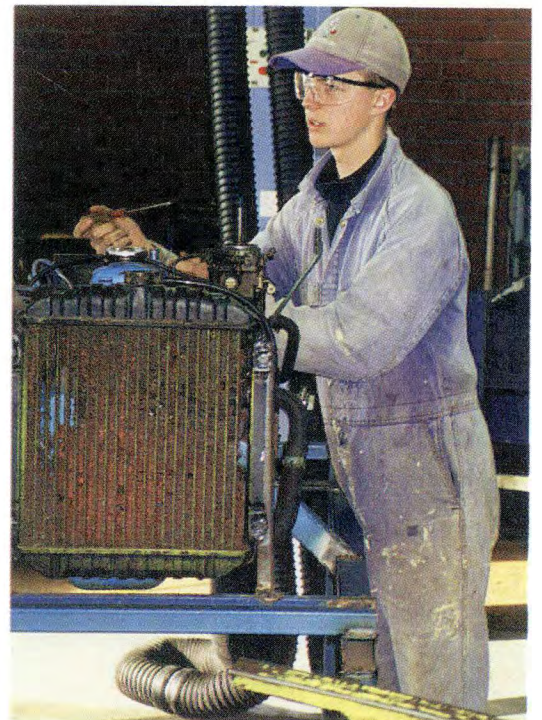

Office Administration

The trainees commenced the year with the well established, combined Marist Regional College and Hellyer College Orientation Day at the Burnie Surf Club, where students were introduced to the Office Administration programme, the employers and Hellyer College trainees. Throughout the year students have experienced the world of business having undertaken three work placements in the Office Administration area. In addition to their training at Marist Regional College, the students attended the Burnie TAFE Postlink Practice Firm, where they were exposed to and carried out tasks within the simulated practice firm.

Hospitality

Students in the Hospitality Vocational Education and Training programme also commenced the year with a combined Marist Regional College and Hellyer College Orientation Day. Throughout the year the trainees have gained skills and experience in the Hospitality Industry having undertaken four weeks workplacement in local businesses. For these trainees the year concluded with the showcasing of their skills with the Burnie VET Training and Assessment Week held at the Burnie Civic Centre. During this week trainees from both Marist and Hellyer Colleges received training in the preparation and operation of a fine dining restaurant. The menu posed a challenge to both the kitchen and front of house trainees allowing them to demonstrate their talents and skills in the Hospitality Industry. Many local sponsors also contributed generously and their support is gratefully acknowledged.

Sincere thanks are extended to all workplacement employers, trainers and supervisors, the hardworking members of each of the Industry Advisory Committees, TAFE Tasmania and Hellyer College personnel. We look forward to next year with the involvement of more students and staff in the VET in Schools Programme.

CHILD STUDIES

WORKING WITH CHILDREN:

This year's child studies class was a great success with 13 students participating not only in class, but also in the running of playgroup, which was held from the beginning of term two, until the end of term three. The playgroup was run and organised by the students, but with much help from Mrs Okines, Mrs Dennis and Mrs Barnes. The playgroup was enjoyed by everyone involved and will hopefully be as popular next year.

MUSIC REPORT

The 2000 Music Programme has been productive and varied. Two major highlights were the Arts Festival 'There's Something About Marist' (and there sure is!) and our performance in front of a crowd of thousands at the Olympic Torch Carrying Ceremony.

The high participation rate in musical activities runs as an extension of classwork outside class time, for both music and non music students, and is indicative of the tremendous level of commitment shown by our musicians. The Concert Band comprises 44 students, the Jazz Band features 18 lively music makers, our Choral programme and Vocal Ensemble were well supported and several small instrumental groups rehearse regularly. There has been a keen interest displayed in Rock Bands with 7 bands entering our entertaining Battle of the Bands. Desmond were successful in gaining first place. We are grateful for the competent assistance from our part-time tutors namely, Mr Andy Farrell, Mrs Jan Marinos, Mr Tom Lamb, Mr Philip Nicholas, Ms Denise Sam, and recently Mr Nick Muir. Mrs Jill Bacon's expertise as accompanist has been invaluable. We also thank Mrs Anthea Carins for her excellent work with our singers at Eisteddfod time.

ROCK BANDS

Our Rock Bands have had considerable success state wide and nationally, due to their many hours of rehearsal (and the high tolerance of nearby staff!)

Tone Deaf performed at the Derwent Entertainment Centre as one of three state finalists competing for a place in the national competition. Jessica McPherson, their vocalist, gained first place as 'Best Female Vocalist' in the T.M.I.A. Open Band competition in Launceston, Lachie Robertson, lead guitarist, gained the award for best individual performer at the 'Millenium Rock Comp' and the band has performed frequently throughout the year, supporting numerous community events.

Jester gained fame late in the year with the attainment of an award in the T.M.I.A. Open Rock Band Competition in Launceston. They also earned comment on Triple J and a feature in Melbourne based Buzz magazine. KEEP COMPOSING!

Desmond as mentioned above, won our Battle of the Bands and our other bands featured in the Arts Festival and in concerts for local schools.

ARTS FESTIVAL 'There's Something About Marist'

Over 100 musicians performed in our Arts Festival gaining much praise from the community. Their efforts were tremendous. The programme was varied and exhibited our students' talents admirably. A lot of fun was had by all!

PERFORMANCES

We have shared our music with many community groups and helped out whenever possible. Some of our performances include:

Burnie Eisteddfod	Stella Maris Concerts & Fete
Olympic Torch Ceremony	Cooee Indoor Market
Burnie Surf Club Functions	Assembly Items
Marist Fete	Burnie Art Gallery
Burnie Ten	Vincent's Christmas Celebrations
Wynyard Tulip Festival	Umina Park Afternoon
T.M.I.A. Rock Challenge	Burnie Carols by Candlelight
St. Peter Chanel Family Night and School Concert	to mention but a few.

The Year 2000 will be memorable to me as a very happy first year teaching music at Marist Regional College. The warm welcome, tremendous support, encouragement and ready acceptance from the School Community, the abundance of smiling faces and the genuine willingness to participate have contributed to a delightful year. Thank you

Mrs Jenny Lakeland.

ART FESTIVAL

..... as our student actors, musicians, artists, dancers and technicians proved yet again with the Millenium Arts Show. Of course it wouldn’t have been complete without two hopeless Millenium Bugs (the infamous Michael Pullinger and Daniel Taylor) who, having failed to disrupt the whole world in January, as promised made one last attempt at notoriety with the Marist Arts Show. In astonishing green and pink costumes they infiltrated almost every act, failing once again in their ambition but adding hilarity and continuity to the show.

The creative talent of students began months before with the fantastic poster and programme design (Allison Neilson, Corrie Wheare and Taryn Conroy) which illustrated all the many performances and arts which 200 students were developing in various parts of the college to come together in July.

The audience, arriving at 7.15 p.m. browsed at the Art Exhibition featuring the work of over 200 students, accompanied by classical pianist Christopher Wookey followed by jazz pianist Jim Smiley and the saxophone quartet with Scooby Doo. At 7.45 p.m., when the theatre doors opened “Expeditrians” rocked the audience in to the theatre.

The Stage Show opened with the concert band and singer Elizabeth Lea’s “Feel Like A Woman” accompanied by a totally “funk” dance group. The Caveman Comedian provided slapstick humour, followed by the unforgettable grade ten boys in “Vampire”. The audience laughed while the production team bit their nails in helpless terror - what will they do this time and how will we get them off!!!!!!

Spectacular colour erupted with the colourful “Dance Through The Ages”, a collection of fabulous dance styles performed by the forty eight well practiced and choreographed students. The mood dropped suddenly to an exquisite spotlight moment in the middle of the auditorium with a beautiful flute solo by Fumiko Tanaka, one of our exchange students.

Three funny poems by grade nine and seven students followed, the tempo building with the Concert Band’s “Liberty Bell” and the Vocal Ensembles beat “Music in My Soul”.

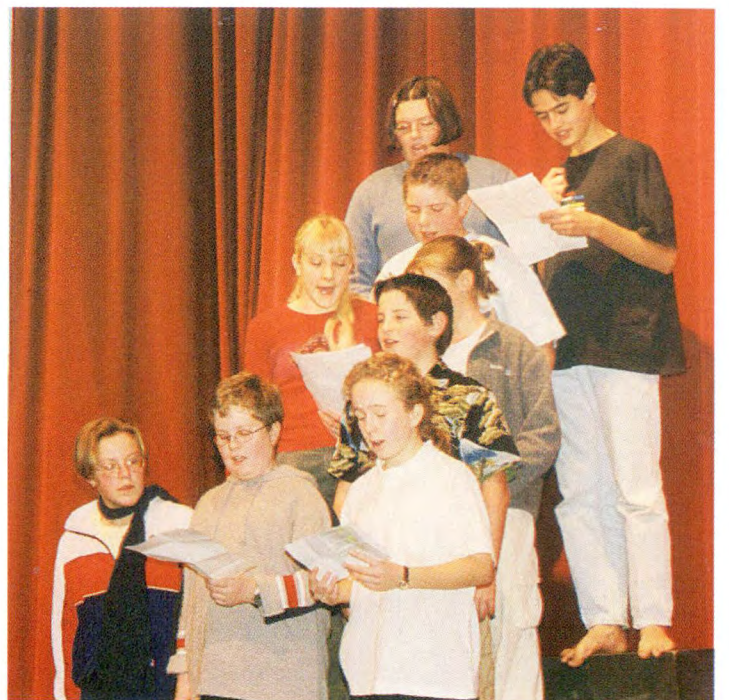

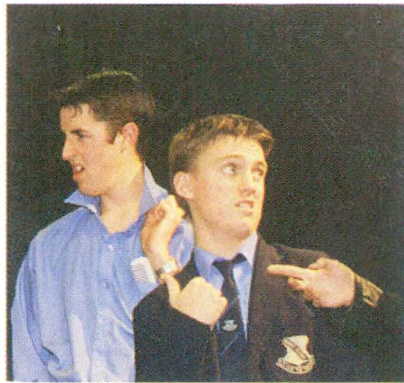

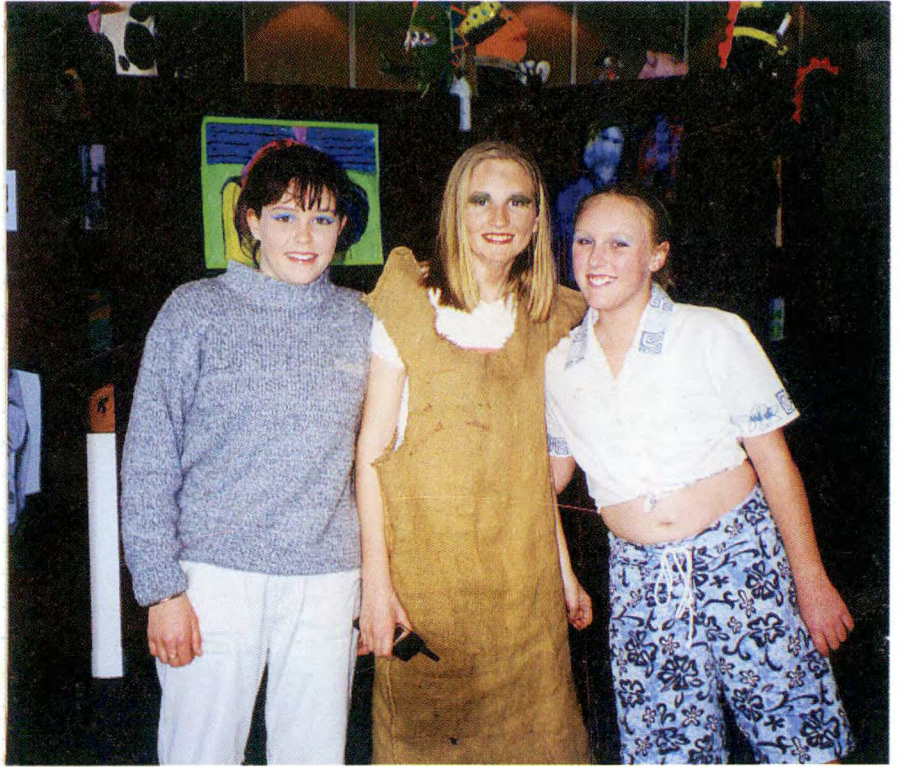

The audience was totally confused by “A Dramatic Interlude”, in which the Senior Drama Class upset conventional ideas of “a play” with an astonishing array of characters coming from the audience, backstage and out of the lighting box - the confusion over who was acting and who was interrupting could only be ended by “The Interval”.

.....during which “Looditz” entertained the crowd with peaceful rock in the foyer.

A serious and thoughtful note began the second act with “Les Miserables” from the Concert Band, and grade ten Drama students satirical “Ten” an interpretation of the Ten Commandments for the people of this millenium. The choir and vocal ensembles provided a number of haunting songs followed by more humorous poetry from the grade sevens and eights. The evening built to a crescendo with the excitement and colour of Marists’ Award Winning Rock Group “Tone Deaf”, the Jazz Band and the Senior Dance Group rocking and rolling to a medley of songs from the musical “Grease”.

Many thanks to all the students, parents and teachers involved in a successful and exciting show.

RECONCILIATION WALK

Five Year 11 students, Jessica Halpin, Kate Aalders, Lauren Culph, Elice Wells and Nicola Chen responded to Father Ryder's call for interest in taking part in the "Sorry Walk" across the Tasman Bridge on July 23rd. We travelled with Mrs Chen to Hobart on the Saturday to ensure that we would be ready early on Sunday.

We rugged up to brave Hobart's winter weather and despite arriving early, found it difficult to find a parking space on the domain. We then had a long walk to the buses, which were delivering large numbers of people across to the eastern side of the river where the walk began. Finally arriving at our starting point we met up with small groups of students from other schools.

The walk began with Aboriginal elder, Aunty Ida West releasing a bunch of red, yellow and black balloons. The number of people walking was amazing. As we reached the highest point of the bridge we could see people entering the regatta grounds while there were still people on the eastern side starting the walk. The police estimation of numbers was 25,000, the largest turnout of any state per head of population.

We felt proud to be part of the celebration for reconciliation and hope that the event will send the message to all Australians that we are sorry for the mistakes made in the past, and that we want to mend relationships with the Aboriginal people.

Back: Lachlan Newport, Adam Jones, Nicholas Platts, Nicholas Cuff, Mrs C Woodberry
Centre: Steven More, Nigel Margetts, Carmen Barnard, Jonathon Chugg, Alex Klein
Front: Catherine Frawley, Daniel O'Donnell, Amanda Beaumont

2000 was a landmark year for library monitors, in that we included students from nearly every year group, from Grade 7 to Senior College. Our thanks must go to them for all their work they have done for the library this year. Many of them are old hands at the job, having returned year after year to empty trolleys, shelve, process books for cataloguing and do any other tasks the library staff required. We hope that in 2001 we continue to have a strong number of library monitors, including some from this year, and to those moving on we wish you all the best.

DEBATING

DEBATING TEAM

Back: Ettia Wong, Jonathon Duniam, Sarah Abell, Christopher Sandy

“That the Ocker is a Shocker”
“That we are a nation of imitators”
“That it is no longer how you play the game, it is whether you win or lose”
“The Media is more important than policy”

These are some of the topics that were debated at the Parliamentary Shield Debating Competition held at St Patrick’s College in Launceston. The team consisted of Lyle Crawford and Ettia Wong (Debating Co-Captains), Sarah Abell, Jonathon Duniam, Zoe Edwards, Toni Hicks and, Christopher Sandy.

Although on the weekend the two teams were only able to win one debate against Grammar, the team spirit was exceptionally high at all times. For many members of the team it was their first debate and they showed excellent courage and skill. All the team members were very confident, but it was the lack of experience in the end that only gave the B team the chance to win one debate. All team members had a great time and there are only a few opportunities like this where you can meet new people, have fun and enjoy the challenge of a good debate. In the final grueling A debate, Scotch Oakburn defeated St Patrick’s by a small margin, while in the final B debate, Grammar defeated St Patrick’s.

Thanks go to Mrs Viney and Mrs Visser who gave up much of their time to help coach the teams.

ST VINCENT DE PAUL

ST VINCENT DE PAUL SENIOR CONFERENCE 2000:

St. Vincent de Paul is committed to helping the needy in local areas as well as internationally. Our Conference tried hard to assist in any way we could. I would like to congratulate and thank everyone involved this year, who balanced work, school and social commitments with Vinnies. We were involved in a number of things this year including an Easter party for local kids. We sponsored two children internationally as well as attempting two local activity days. These days, unfortunately, did not quite go to plan but the work that was put in was greatly appreciated. A small group organised the buddy camps in the holidays and we donated money to the Palm Island Missions as well as local charities. We held some fun raisers this year including car washing and a lolly raffle.

Once again I would like to thank all who supported us in any way throughout the year.

HEYWIRE - 2000

"I'm leaving Tassie as soon as I finish school" is a common cry thrown up in canteens and school corridors all over the state, often when conversation wavers from the normal everyday banter to something more serious. In other states, the very mention of moving interstate would bring gasps of disbelief, but it is with a great deal of sadness that in Tasmania, not even an eyebrow is raised in surprise at the concept. Sadly, it is a given fact that if you are born in Tasmania and want to succeed in life, you have to pull up your roots and head interstate. Or is it???? Have the youth of Tasmania become so blasé towards the concept of "escaping the state" that we take it to be set in stone, even an unwritten rule perhaps?

But why do we as Tasmania's future so easily accept the concept of deserting our homeland?? I believe that it is perhaps that we take for granted the fact that in Tasmania, we have so much, but yet we do not realise it. We have freedom, we have space, and most importantly, we have a sense of identity and community, a fact that is often lost on the youth of Tasmania, but one which is extremely important for a teenager growing up in the fast paced world that we live in today.

It is often true that in the big cities the youth become nothing more than a number, a statistic, a name written on paper. For the youth of Tasmania however, especially in small cities like the City of Burnie that I live in, we have something that could never be captured on paper, that being a sense of community spirit and community pride. In our local newspaper I read about what is affecting my life and the lives of people in our community, BEFORE I read about what Microsoft's fourth quarter earnings are expected to be. When the youth of the cities like the one that I live in have a concern, we know that we have a voice and that it is not only heard, but that something is done about it. When I walk home from school I know the people I meet along the way, and it is great when they ask about something that I mentioned to them when I was walking home a week ago. A big city could never offer such a sense of community, but sometimes it is easy for us to take these things for granted as we are so used to them, and sometimes we yearn for the excitement of the big city and forget about everything that we have now.

Perhaps then, before we chase that elusive dream on the mainland and leave our families and friends behind, we should take a look at what we have here, right in front of us, and then maybe instead of letting the comment about leaving Tasmania pass without even the blink of an eye, we too will be able to rise up in sheer disbelief and ask, "Buy why ???"

METAPHOR

Yesterday,
our teacher Ms Rodger
wanted us to write a metaphor poem,
Liam asked, "what is a meta for?"
But Justine saved the day
By raising her hand and saying that a metaphor is when you say
"Liam is a goat,
he is hairy and not very bright,
he is always chewing and making strange noises,

Patrick White, 8W

he lives on a farm
and eats anything," Tomorrow
Ms Rodger is going to teach us onomatopoeia,
Liam said that if you put a mat on a pier
It would get wet,
Justine raised her hand again but
Ms Rodger said in a loud voice,
"class dismissed"
Liam said, "what did the class just miss?"

ABSURD

"Take one tablet three times a day".
"Do not use hairdryer while sleeping".
"Children, do not drive or operate heavy machinery".
"Defrost frozen food before eating". Have you ever noticed how vague and misleading instructions are today?

I don't simply mean directional instructions given to you by the worst navigator in the world, but the totality of instructions in general.

I made the effort yesterday to haul my diseased body out of bed and visit the doctor with an oppressive migraine and a raw, irritated throat. After a momentary consultation, I was prescribed a week's supply of antibiotics. The doctor did not give me any instructions as to how to take the medication, but instead told me to read and follow the instructions on the reverse side of the bottle. What a disappointment they turned out to be. I have never read such an impractical, futile piece of jargon in all my life. The instructions on the headache tablets instructed me to take one tablet three times a day. How can you take one tablet three times a day? Shouldn't the instructions straightforwardly read, "Take one tablet in the morning, a second tablet at lunchtime and a final one before going to bed"? Wouldn't it be wiser to avoid ambiguity concerning medication? Obviously not everyone in this world was born with the concept of logic.

My next dose of antibiotics was for my irritated throat. The instructions directed me to take the medication as directed by my physician. Let me attempt to make some sense here. The doctor instructs me to follow the directions and the directions advise me to follow the advice of the physician. Unless I have missed something significant along the lines, I can find no logic here whatsoever. Can you?

While we are on the subject of useless pieces of information, let's just look at the following prime examples that I have encountered.

Not long ago, I decided to replace my antique hairdryer with a contemporary one. There was a tag placed on the cord of the appliance which had an absurd, nonsensical instruction written upon it. The instruction read, "Do not use while sleeping". How can you use a hairdryer when you are in an altered state of consciousness anyway. I have heard about obsessive-compulsive disorder, but drying your hair while asleep is a little fanatical.

Not long ago, my friend's youngest son was diagnosed with attention deficit disorder. The child was taken to his local practitioner and was given a course of medication to help calm his exasperating behaviour. On the side of the bottle of medication was an instruction printed in bold uppercase print that read, "Do not operate or drive heavy machinery". What kind of incompetent halfwit would write that statement on a bottle of medication for young children?

Another friend of mine was suffering from the sleep disorder called insomnia. She was given a bottle of sleeping tablets to lengthen the duration of her sleeping patterns. On the front of the bottle, written in an eye catching font read, "Warning may cause drowsiness". Isn't that ironic that sleeping tablets may cause drowsiness? I would never have made that evident association between the two, would you?

Not only are these illogical instructions found plastered all over our medications, but they are also located on items of food.

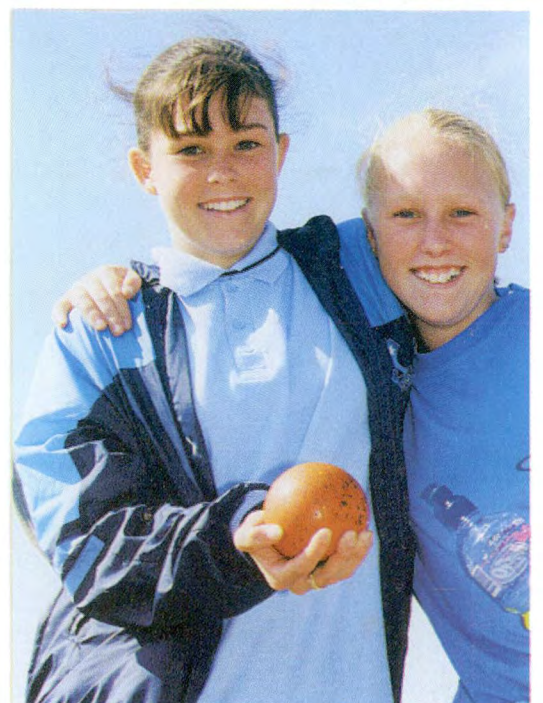

Last night I purchased a frozen dinner from my local supermarket. Would you believe that printed in bold letters on the top of this dinner was the serving suggestion that read "Defrost before eating"? Do the mortals who write these instructions think that we were born minus a consignment of brain cells, or are they the ones minus the genetic trait of intelligence?

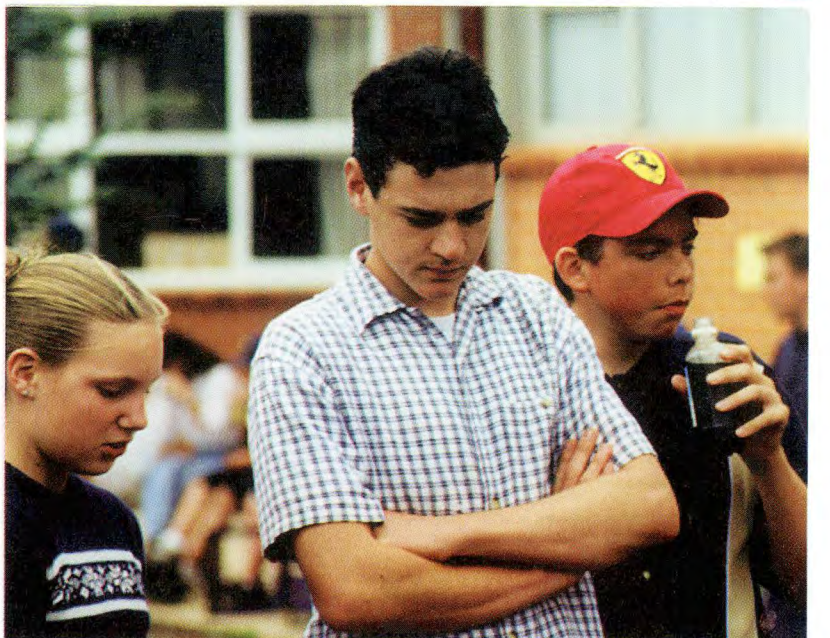

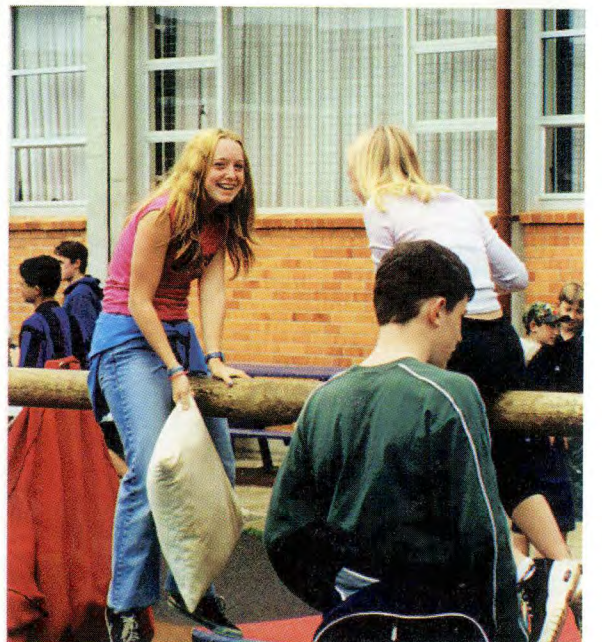

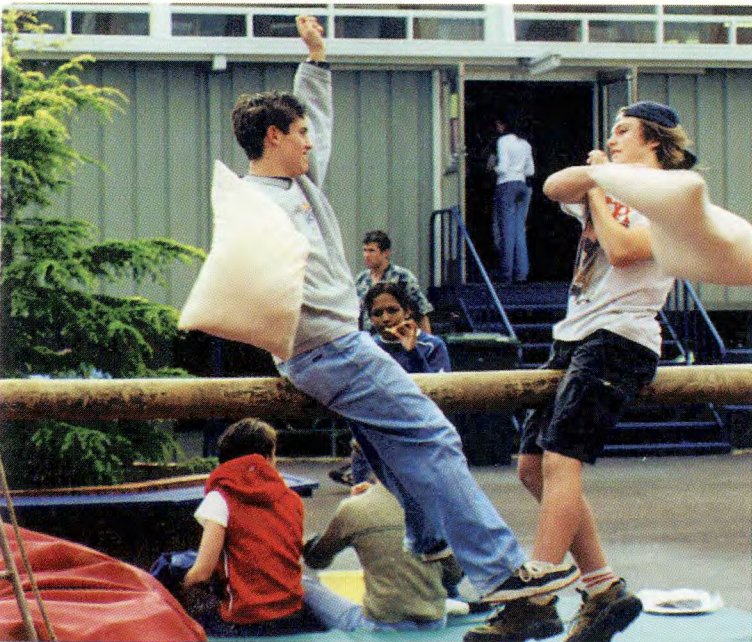

Another classic example of illogical instructions that will prove to you that instruction writers are intellectually impaired was present when I purchased a box of dessert. After eating the dessert I noticed on the bottom of the box, an instruction advising me, "not to turn upside down". Where is the logic in placing that instruction where it will only be observed when the box is turned upside down? This instruction is absolutely mindless and invalid, as are many instructions today.

I am sure that I have only covered a small portion of moronic instructions floating around in our world today, but to conclude, here is a piece of advice on how to understand moronic, senseless instructions.

Firstly, read the imbecilic instructions and then reinterpret them in your own language by using common sense, knowledge and acumen and definitely not assumption. Once understood, follow your own interpretation and then chuckle about the lack of intelligence in the field of so-called professional instruction writing today.

HOUSE REPORTS

BASS HOUSE

Bass House began the year with a good performance in the swimming carnival coming second to Cook. The House Spirit was outstanding and the participation from both senior and junior students was great to see. This participation and enthusiasm continued at the athletics carnival but unfortunately this was not enough for a win. Our performance in the cross country was similar to that of swimming with many solid performances from house members enabling us to consolidate another second position. We would like to thank all Bass members for their participation and enthusiasm throughout the carnivals as well as vice-captains Emily Lane and Mark Spinks for their help during the year. Good luck for future years and we hope some of those seconds can become wins.

Storm Anderson and
Andrew Cox

TASMAN HOUSE

This year once again, we put up strong competition in all sporting areas with a wonderful second place finish in the Athletics Carnival; third in the Swimming Carnival; and third in the Cross Country. These results indicated a very good all round ability and co-operative nature of all the Tasman members.

We felt that after many years of dominance, it was time to allow someone else to come in first place. We look forward to many more years of glory when once again our team involvement reaches an all time high in 2001. We would like to thank all our senior college helpers for their support and a big thank you to Sue-Anne Knight for her outstanding Vice Captaincy throughout the year.

Clay Walsh and Cassie Jago

COOK HOUSE

Cook had a great start to the year, beginning with a convincing win in the swimming carnival for the second consecutive year. The outstanding Cook spirit and ongoing willingness in participation and dedication, especially from our junior students (as well as our seniors') was bound to produce a successful year in 2000.

This high standard of enthusiasm, determination and participation were also affected in both the cross country and athletic carnivals. Although we were unable to continue in our winning fashion, these two carnivals saw many solid performances from house members - at no stage, however, did any Cook member give up, despite our dismal beginnings the carnivals and a 100% effort improved our outlook (all members were dedicated to show that the Cook spirit of determination was not lacking). All three carnivals of the year saw remarkable uplifts in participation in classic displays of overwhelming team spirit.

Many, many thanks must go to the House Masters and Mistresses, and a very special thank you also to our vice Captains, Luke Roberts and Haani Beswick, for their ongoing hard work and support - thank you to all!

Lastly, all Cook members must be congratulated on their fine efforts throughout what has been one of Cooks most prosperous years. We wish you all good luck for the future carnivals and hope that they will display the high standards shown this year!

Sarah Evans and James Raschle

FLINDERS HOUSE

The year of 2000 proved to be a great success for Flinders, with a triumphant first place in both the Athletics Carnival and the Cross-Country. Throughout the carnivals all team members showed great participation and team spirit. Their determination to do their best shone through as Flinders edged closer and closer to winning. Not only was it the individual performances that stood out but the great team work and participation from every body.

We would like to give a special thank you to our vice captains and all of the teachers associated with Flinders, for with out their support and encouragement we could not have made 2000 the successful year it was for our team.

ATHLETICS

MARIST REGIONAL COLLEGE ATHLETIC CARNIVAL - 2000

Marist Regional College Athletics Carnival, 2000. Another year, another excuse to get as many students in as many age groups as possible to ruthlessly compete against each other in track and field events and call it team spirit. Five years of having to listen to Mrs. Wighton's 'inspirational' pep talks prior to the event have failed to convince me that the Athletic Carnival is beneficial to our growth as young men and women. It's just a blatant attempt by teachers to expose those of us who lack the ability to run normally. Maybe I'm just bitter because I'm one of those people who have an unusual running action. Or maybe I'm just downright jealous of all the people who did our school proud on the 6th and 7th of April, 2000.

Like a few unfortunate Grade 7's down the hill, the records tumbled faster than Aaron Jones sped around the No. 1 oval. Aaron is now the proud owner of a pair of shiny new track records, the 400 and 800 metre events. The aptly named Milenija Wheeler ushered in the year 2000 with a stunning haul of three newly broken records in the under 15 girl's high jump, long jump, and triple jump.

Not only were we blessed with an abundance of talented people willing to perform to their highest capabilities on the field, but there were also many people happy to perform to their very limited capabilities. Their respective teams may not have cheered them on, and they many not have heard their name being yelled ecstatically over the P.A. during an event. In fact, they probably suffered a humiliatingly degrading last in a race. But these very losers are the two percenters, the crummers, and the guys who really mean the difference between first and last place. And in the end, it really did come down to those final few placings that determined the ultimate nail-biting result. Flinders came from nowhere to snatch victory from a shell-shocked Tasman who I thought had it in the bag. Cook stumbled over the line for a commendable third, while Bass tripped over its shoelace to be fourth out of four.

And me? Well, I still think that athletic carnivals are nothing more than a bludge for those of us not athletically inclined, but there were a few choice highlights for me that made this particular carnival stand out from the others:

- the aspiring Bruce McAvaney who performed the commentary in the absence of Mr. Smith for the first time in many years. A very commendable job well done.
- the blatant tripping Rowan received in the final of the boys under 16 100 metre. Shame on the perpetrator, who shall remain nameless, but that was a vicious attempt of sabotage, James Dwyer. Congratulations on making my athletic carnival that much more memorable.
- the wonderfully innovative SRC who provided the lazy hill-dweller folk with soggy ice creams and warm drinks, all delivered to us direct, by the SRC themselves!

And despite the transparent contempt I have towards the Athletic Carnival, I went against my ethics and actually competed in the open girls' javelin. And remember it's not important how badly I did, it's the fact that I participated which really counts.... So what do I have to look forward to at the Athletic Carnival in 2001? I can rest in the knowledge that next year I can again sit on that impossibly angled hill, do little and know that my team will have no trouble winning without me contributing.

CROSS COUNTRY

On Wednesday, May 24th the annual Cross Country was held. Weather conditions were overcast but this was ideal for running. The course was very demanding with most participants putting in a 100% effort. There were many outstanding achievements and the high participation level ensured the day was a success.

First placings went to:

Girls:

U/13 Rhia Newton
U/14 Kim Hogarth
U/15 Lauren White
U/16 Calantha Vovou
Open Chelsea Beswick

Lewis Tunstall

Boys:

U/13 Michael Neilson
U/14 Sam Fergusson
U/15 Lewis Tunstall
U/16 Delville Tuckett
Open Aaron Jones

Final Points:

Flinders: 608
Bass: 587
Tasman: 553
Cook: 488

SOCCER U/15

Marist Regional College U/15 Soccer Team enjoyed a good season this year but without significant success. The team was very competitive coming third in the League, runner-up in the Six-A-Side Competition and again runner-up in the Knockout Cup Final. On an individual basis eleven boys represented Burnie against teams from Devonport, Ulverstone and Launceston at various stages throughout the year and was successful in all matches. Seven boys were also selected in the U/15 North West team.

As the season progressed, it became obvious that Marist Regional College, Burnie High School and St Brendan-Shaw College were clearly above the remainder of the competition and so much of the season revolved around these teams' clashes and St. Brendan Shaw in particular. These matches proved to be fiercely contested but unfortunately Marist came off second best on all occasions. [3-4 in the roster, 1-1 (lost on penalties in the Six-A-Side Final) and 2-2 (lost in extra time in Knockout Final)]. In all of these matches Marist did hold the lead. As coach, the best part of the year was the significant improvement of many of the players such as, Stephen Stone, Andrew De Vries, Keiran Andrusko, Tristan Locke, Lewis Tunstall and the continued good play of leading goalscorer Christopher White, midfield play of James Parry and Jonathan Sharman. Congratulations to the whole team for their efforts this year and to Christopher White, Keiran Andrusko, Jonathan Sharman, Lewis Tunstall, James Parry, Stuart Redmond and Michael Parker for their selection in the U/15 North West Team.

Brett Argent (Coach)

SOCCKER U/14A

Following on from last year's solid performance the U/14A team produced an impressive season. In the League and Knock Out Cups our team played 15 games, won 11, drew 3 and lost only one game. As it turned out the loss and a drawn game made the difference between winning and being runners up. We scored 58 goals and conceded 16, which is an indication of the strength of both attack and defence within the team. Our Six-A-Side squad went through all games undefeated and after a nil all result into extra time in the final lost on a penalty shootout. Marist were in fact the only team in the league this year to beat all other comers at some stage. The culmination of the year was winning the Knock Out Cup. While the encounters against St. Brendan-Shaw and Latrobe were hard fought our team won these quite comfortably to take a well deserved trophy. But for a stumble at the start of the season and a bit of luck in the Six-A-Side games, Marist could have brought home all three titles this year. It has been a great pleasure coaching the team and if all the boys continue with their sport they will be a formidable combination again next year.

Peter Pullinger (Coach)

SOCCKER U/14B

Congratulations to the MRC 1 U/14B Soccer Team on a fantastic season, finishing third on the ladder. Each and every member of the team performed extremely well most of the time in the positions they played. Heading the attack on the forward line were Michael Bulless, Simon Ball Smith and Luke Skvaril who were assisted by the midfielders, Daniel Moelder, Rowan Galpin, Tristan Nichols and Mark Davis. This combination worked very well and most of the time penetrating the oppositions defence was not a problem. Our defence was also solid with Daniel Bramich, Ben Morris, Alan Cooke and Martin Wells. These boys worked very hard and were mostly successful in keeping the ball from reaching Brad Trull who had the lonely task of protecting the goals, however, when Brad did get a piece of the action his ability to read the play and his skill as goal keeper made it difficult for the opposition to get the ball behind the line. I would like to thank the un-named members of the team, and they are the parents who provided the oranges for the games, washed the tops, refereed the games and supported me and the boys throughout the season.

HOCKEY

NSATIS BOYS HOCKEY

Saturday saw a disappointing end to a fantastic season with the boys conceding their only goal of the year to miss out on playing in the state premierships. It came down to winning or even drawing the final game but this wasn't to be. An outplayed Scotch Oakburn College managed to score an opportune goal and withstand a constant barrage from the Marist forwards in the final period of the game.

Marist has enjoyed a successful season this year by averaging over 4 goals a game and only having their defence penetrated once. Its impressive record in defence directly reflects the outstanding consistency of goal keeper Dylan Borg and the hard working efforts of senior defenders Chris Norton, Ben Hey, James Norton, Leigh Burley and Todd Beswick.

The forwards have excelled to produce some fast flowing accurate team work resulting in 25 goals being scored from 6 matches. Major contributors were Jarrod Page 9, Stuart Bowles 7 and the remainder being equally distributed within the talents of Neville Scott, Peter Cock, Chris Ward, James Norton and Sean Fitzmaurice. The success of the team would not have been possible without the determination of the younger brigade of players who performed impressively in their first year at this high level. The following players will be important links in our future teams, Kanon Lockett, Martin Scott, Nick Hanigan, Jeremy Barker and Clint Tennant.

Again this year, as in the past two years, one game has been the stumbling block between winning and losing the NSATIS premierships. With the infusion of some new young talent into the team next year, hopefully this obstacle can be overcome.

Congratulations to all of the boys on their effort and commitment to training and games this year. Well done!

NSATIS 1ST X1

What a successful season it was for the 1sts. The team began a little shaky but after a motivating talk from Mr Hamilton and Mr Keegan our games improved. The boy's spirits were high and the team started to put in some good performances.

Our first match recorded a narrow loss to Scotch Oakburn, followed by several other losing games, but a stunning performance against St. Patrick's late in the season, on their home turf, enabled us to record our first win. This was an exciting day for the team achieving their first win for many seasons. The year concluded with a further strong performance against Grammar, who were the eventual State Premiers, losing by only 2 wickets.

Highlights for the year included Orson Poole smashing 2 brilliant half centuries, Brett Robinson's half century, Clay Walsh's 5 for 34 and Adam Bosworth's 5 for 36 to seal victory against St. Patrick's. While these were the most memorable highlights, there were many other wonderful performances by other members of the team.

Many thanks to Mr Keegan and Mr Hamilton for giving up their time to coach.

Goodluck to the team for next year as many who played this year are able to play in the 2001 roster.

Marist Tennis in 2000 is developing strongly with 24 students participating in the roster matches against St Brendan's - Devonport, and Launceston Grammar, Scotch Oakburn and St. Patrick's College - Launceston.

The players included: Lisa Neilson (Girls' Captain) Anna Wilson, Lisa Conroy, Karen Neilson, Laura Frankcombe, Rachel Gee, Esther Harris, Emily Large, Corrie Wheare, Nikki Allan, Belinda Van Tholen, Joshua Leary (Boys' Captain), Matthew Conlon, Matthew Platts, Luke Skvaril, James Carr, Ben Wagner, Chris Garwood, Ryan Gilmour, Ben Boyles, Peter Boyles, Lewis Tunstall, James Dwyer and Tim Okines.

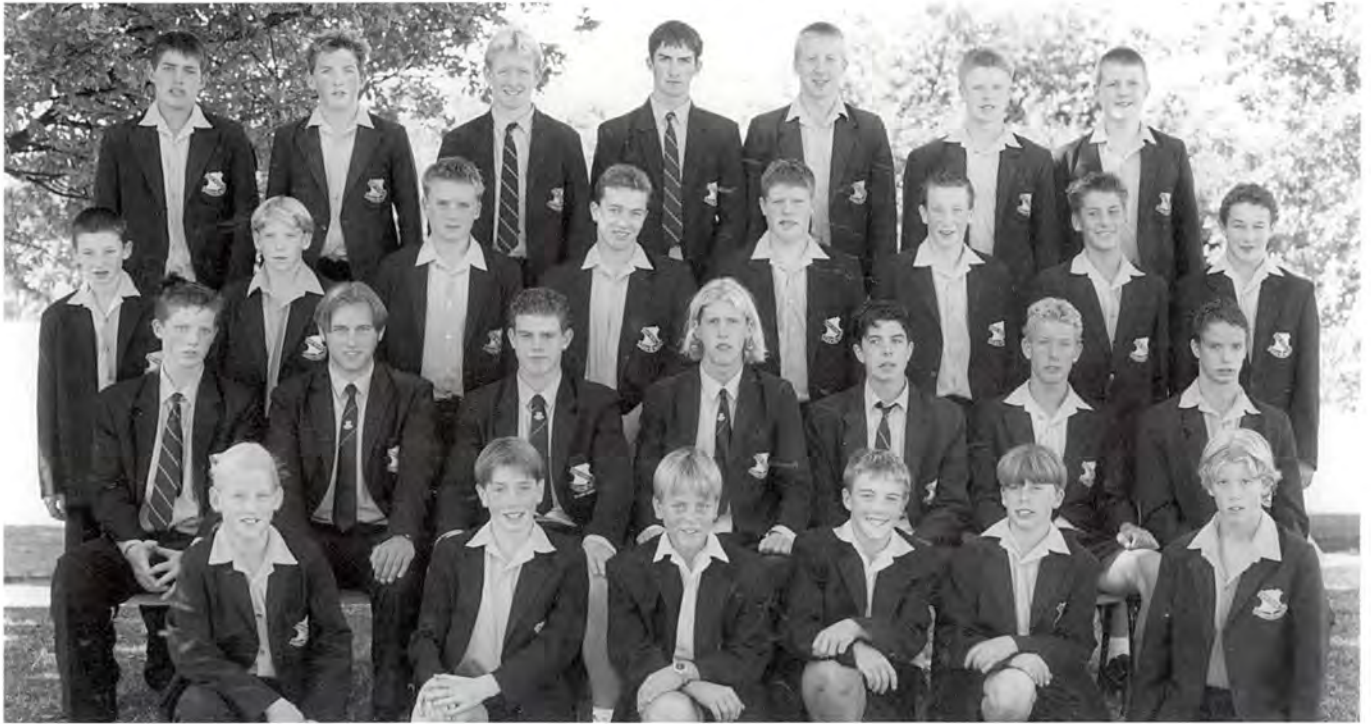

The success of many close games was made possible by the generosity of families being able to assist with transport and accommodating billets from St Patrick's College, Launceston. Because we are a regional college we often require accommodation when playing sport in Launceston or Hobart and it was wonderful that so many families volunteered to provide accommodation this year for St. Patrick's students.

Thank you especially to the Carr, Frankcombe, Large, Neilson, Wilson, Conlon and Leary families for their generosity this season.

This year Marist fielded two 'B' teams and hopefully this will be the foundation for next season competing with both an 'A' and 'B' team in both girls and boys.
